

George, the Dog Genius

Gil has a big dog named George.

One summer day, Gil walked with gentle George to the grocery store to buy food. He left George at the door. Dogs generally don't go into stores.

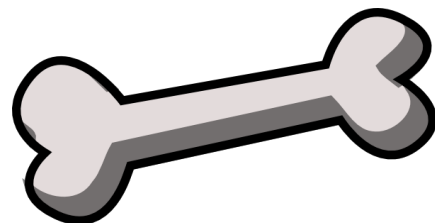

He went to the refrigerator to find milk and eggs, and to the shelf for ginger cookies and dog food for George. He got gelato from the freezer.

Suddenly, George started to bark at a giant stranger running from the store. He stole money from the cash register! George was gentle but he grabbed the giant stranger's pant leg in his teeth!

The guard from the store called the police! The police got the money back for the store.

"Your dog is a genius!" the police told Gil. "He helped to stop this man from stealing money from the cash register!" And the policeman gave gentle George a dog treat.
